APGI Programme : 5th January 2019 – 30th June 2020

Should you be successful in your application to join the Accredited Pet Gundog Instructor Programme for 2019 you will need to agree to the following; please read carefully, sign and return to theoffice@thepetgundog.co.uk with your application.

Home study and programme participation

- You commit to submit your monthly assignments by the end of the given month
- You agree to participate in the private facebook group
- You agree to attend, with your dog, five days practical training taking place 29th April – 3rd May 2019
- You agree to attend, with your dog, five days practical training taking place 23rd – 27th September 2019
- You agree to attend, with your dog, four days practical training, including assessment taking place 16th – 19th March 2020
- Upon successful accreditation, you commit to attending a practical weekend of continued professional development every two years

Workshop attendance

- Your dog is to be handled competently and safely and be under your control at all times
- You are responsible for your dog as only you understand your dog's intentions and idiosyncrasies
- All instruction and training methods are to be followed
- Dogs to be kept on a lead at all times unless otherwise instructed
- Any faeces deposited to be cleaned up immediately and taken away for disposal
- Bitches in season cannot attend the practical training, however you need to still attend and participate without your dog
- Remember when you bring your dog to a training class environment, you do so at your own risk. Dogs are not always predictable in their behaviour and although the risk is minimal, that is the nature of dog training
